University of Athens protest against collaboration with Lockheed Martin
– Free Palestine

Students' militant protest against the collaboration of the University of Athens with Lockheed Martin, was held by the Student Unions of Athens at the Dean's Office of the School of Sciences of the University of Athens.

The students demanded to stop immediately the cooperation of the University with the company that arms NATO with weapons, its warlike missions, which bleed the people all over the world, and plays a key role in supplying the State of Israel with weapons and war systems, so that the genocide of the Palestinian people continues.

Under the determined stance of the Students' Unions, the Dean himself stated that he disagrees with this cooperation, and that he does not want the University to become a participant in the bloodshed of the peoples.

The students obtained a commitment that the issue will be discussed in the next meeting of the Dean's Office of the Faculty so that it will take an official position, which will be held in the next few days, with the participation of the Student Unions.
